

INTRODUCTION

I am Hortencio, a healthcare professional and student with the determination to turn my goals into reality. My career path is built on a solid foundation of knowledge, acquired through active participation and commitment at every stage of my education.

This digital portfolio is a reflection of my work. Through projects in HTML and CSS, I demonstrate my ability to create functional and attractive web solutions. My goal is not only to showcase my skills but also to provide an efficient platform that allows for a quick and effective evaluation of my abilities and professional approach.
