

Conclusion

This semester allowed me to consolidate the fundamentals of IT, from how to differentiate Hardware from Software to the importance of Data Protection. I understood that a good manager must master Planning and Controlling for success. The real challenge will be putting this administrative theory into practice with my colleagues.

